Inability to work ...

... refers to when someone is no longer able to carry out work due to medical reasons, to the extent that they did before they fell ill. Inability to work, therefore, always relates to the current activity.

Disability ...

... refers to when someone's ability to perform their current occupation is impaired, in addition to any other occupation that they can be reasonably expected to carry out. Determination of disability is solely a matter for IV (disability insurance).
