

How to finance personally occupied residential property with pension fund assets

1.

Find out about the conditions for early withdrawal

You can withdraw pension fund assets early for the following purposes:

- Purchase of a condo or a house
- Acquisition of shares in a cooperative
- Amortization/securing of a mortgage
- Building of a condo or a house
- Renovation of, or conversion or addition to, a condo or detached home that is already in your possession

Further information on this and on restrictions can be found in the information sheet

Seek advice on the consequences of an early withdrawal

With an early withdrawal, your pension savings become smaller, you will receive less interest credit and your benefits will also be reduced. We will be happy to offer you an overview and demonstrate options for eliminating shortfalls in your retirement provision in order to allow you to precisely assess your personal situation before and after an early withdrawal. Simply contact us at 0800 80 80 80 or bvg@zurich.ch.

3.

Please note the following before you fill out the form

If you have already made an early withdrawal from the second pillar for the financing of personally occupied residential property, please contact the Help Point BVG. It may be that it is not possible to make another early withdrawal in this case.

Should an insured event occur before the desired payment date (for example, in the event of death or disability) or should you leave the pension fund, no payment will be possible.

Collate all evidence in accordance with the checklist

The checklist provides you with information regarding the evidence required in each case.

5.

Fill out the form and submit it with all evidence

By email to:
bvg@zurich.ch

By regular mail to:
Zurich Switzerland
Scanning BVG
P. O. Box
8085 Zurich

6.

Once we have received the cost contribution and the requirements for an early withdrawal have been met, we will transfer the money.
